

Dow 10 Portfolio, Series 47

Investment Objective

The Dow 10 Portfolio, Series 47 (Trust) seeks to provide current income with the potential for capital appreciation.

Key Considerations

- Invest in Industry Leaders: The trust selects its holdings from the Dow Jones Industrial Average® which is composed of 30 large, widely held, financially sound companies.
- Buy at Attractive Entry Points: Using dividend yield, the trust seeks to buy blue chip companies at attractive prices.
- Sell with Discipline: The trust's defined maturity date helps investors remove emotion from the sell decision.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. There is no guarantee that these trends and projections will continue or come to fruition and they are subject to change.

Outperformance Potential from High-Quality Stocks

The Dow 10 Strategy seeks to provide exposure to high-quality, blue chip stocks that may be poised for price appreciation over the term of the trust. The trust employs a recognized "Dogs of the Dow" strategy, which uses a starting universe of the Dow Jones Industrial Average® (DJIA), an index composed of 30 large, widely held and financially sound companies, and invests equally in the 10 companies with the highest dividend yield for a 15-month holding period.

²The Historical Annual Dividend Distribution (HADD) is as of the day prior to trust deposit and subject to change. There is no guarantee the issuers of the securities included in the Trust will declare dividends or distributions in the future. Due to the negative economic impact across many industries caused by the recent COVID-19 outbreak, certain issuers of the securities included in the Trust may elect to reduce the amount of, or cancel entirely, dividends and/or distributions paid in the future. As a result, the HADD figure will likely be higher, and in some cases significantly higher, than the actual distribution rate achieved by the Trust. The HADD of the securities included in the Trust is for illustrative purposes only and is not indicative of the Trust's distribution rate. The HADD is the weighted average of the trailing twelve-month distributions paid by the securities included in the portfolio and is reduced to account for the effects of fees and expenses, which will be incurred when investing in the Trust. The HADD will vary due to certain factors that may include, but are not limited to, a change in the dividends paid by issuers, a change in Trust expenses or the sale or maturity of securities in the portfolio. ³The deferred sales charge (DSC) is a fixed amount and will be deducted in monthly installments on the last business day commencing February 2022 and ending April 2022 or upon early redemption. For unit prices other than $10, percentages of C&D fees, and DSCs will vary but in no event will the maximum sales charge (S/C) exceed the total S/C. Early redemption of units will still cause payment of the DSC. However, an initial sales charge, which is equal to the difference between the maximum S/C and the sum of any remaining deferred S/C charges and C&D, will be charged if the price paid for units exceeds $10 per unit. ⁴For unit prices other than $10, percentage of the C&D fee will vary.

INDEX DEFINITIONS: The S&P 500[®] Index is a capitalization-weighted index of 500 stocks. The Index is designed to measure performance of the broad domestic economy through changes in the aggregate market value of 500 stocks representing all major industries. The Dow Jones Industrial Average[®] (DJIA) Index is a price-weighted index of 30 stocks compiled by Dow Jones & Company.

The Dow 10 Portfolio, Series 47 is a Unit Investment Trust.

RISK CONSIDERATIONS: As with all investments, you may lose some or all of your investment in the Trust. No assurance can be given that the Trust's investment objective will be achieved. The Trust also might not perform as well as you expect. This can happen for reasons such as these: • Securities prices can be volatile. The value of your investment may fall over time. Market value fluctuates in response to various factors. Changes in legal, political, regulatory, tax and economic conditions may cause fluctuations in markets and securities prices, which could negatively impact the value of the Trust. Events such as war, terrorism, natural and environmental disasters and the spread of infectious illnesses or other public health emergencies may adversely affect the economy, various markets and issuers. Recently, the outbreak of a novel and highly contagious form of coronavirus ("COVID-19") has adversely impacted global commercial activity and contributed to significant volatility in certain markets. Many governments and businesses have instituted quarantines and closures, which has resulted in significant disruption in manufacturing, supply chains, consumer demand and economic activity. The potential impacts are increasingly uncertain, difficult to assess and impossible to predict, and may result in significant losses. Any adverse event could materially and negatively impact the value and performance of trust and the Trust's ability to achieve its investment objectives. • Share prices or dividend rates on the securities in the Trust may decline during the life of the Trust and there is no guarantee that the issuers of the securities will declare dividends in the future and, if declared, whether they will remain at current levels or increase over time. • The Trust invests significantly in the consumer staples sector. The factors that impact the consumer staples sector will likely have a greater effect on this Trust than on a more broadly diversified trust. General risks of companies in the consumer staples sector include cyclical nature of revenues and earnings, economic recession, currency fluctuations, changing consumer tastes, extensive competition, product liability litigation and increased government regulation. A weak economy and its effect on consumer spending would adversely affect companies in the consumer staples sector. • The Trust invests significantly in the information technology sector. The factors that impact the information technology sector will likely have a greater effect on this Trust than on a more broadly diversified trust. Companies involved in this sector must contend with rapid changes in technology, intense competition, government regulation and the rapid obsolescence of products and services. Furthermore, sector predictions may not materialize and the companies selected for the Trust may not represent the entire sector and may not participate in the overall sector growth. • The Trust may be susceptible to potential risks through breaches in cybersecurity. • The Trust is subject to risks arising from various operational factors and their service providers. Although the Trust seeks to reduce operational risks through controls and procedures, there is no way to completely protect against such risks. • Inflation may lead to a decrease in the value of assets or income from investments. Please see the Trust prospectus for more complete risk information.

Unit Investment Trusts are fixed, not actively managed and should be considered as part of a long-term strategy. Investors should consider their ability to invest in successive portfolios, if available, at the applicable sales charge. UITs are subject to annual fund operating expenses in addition to the sales charge. Investors should consult an attorney or tax advisor regarding tax consequences associated with an investment from one series to the next, if available, and with the purchase or sale of units.
